Mission Focus

Mexico is well known for its ancient Aztec heritage, decimation of that empire by Spanish conquest, and the widespread impact of smallpox in the 16th century. Receiving its independence from Spain in 1821, Mexico has often struggled with revolution and unrest. While enjoying freedom of religion and constitutional protection of religious practice, 95% adhere to Christianity with nearly four percent making no faith claim. Mexico City is the seventh largest mega-city in the world with a population of 21.7 million living within the metro area. Mexico is one of the oldest works of the Church of the Nazarene outside the continental United States, beginning in 1903. Challenges have changed through the years, but the Good News of Jesus and transformative message of scriptural holiness continue to make a difference in lives and communities.
